ACPE Announces New Appointments to its International Commission

Chicago, IL – The Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE) is pleased to announce the appointment of two new members of the ACPE International Commission (IC). Jannet M. Carmichael (USA) and Abeer M. Al-Ghananeem (Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan) will serve as members of the Commission for an initial three-year term from February 1, 2018 through January 31, 2021.

Jannet M. Carmichael, PharmD, BCPS, FCCP, FAPhA, is currently the President of Pharm Consult NV, LLC, a clinical pharmacy services consulting company. Recently, she retired from the Veterans Health Administration where she was VISN 21 Pharmacy Executive for the VA Sierra Pacific Network caring for approximately 650,000 veterans in Nevada, Northern California and Hawaii. Dr. Carmichael also has vast experience in academia as she previously taught at the University of Iowa, University of North Carolina, and University of Nevada. She has authored many professional papers, book chapters, and research projects and is a frequent speaker on progressive pharmacy practice throughout the country. Dr. Carmichael attended the University of Iowa at Iowa City where she received a Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy degree. Her Doctor of Pharmacy degree was earned at the University of the Pacific, School of Pharmacy.

Abeer M. Al-Ghananeem, PhD, is the Vice Dean, Accreditation, Quality Assurance & Assessment, and Professor of Pharmaceutics & Biopharmaceutics at the Jordan University of Science and Technology, Faculty of Pharmacy. She is an Academic Leadership Fellow of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy (AACCP). She taught at several USA and international schools and served as the Associate Dean of Research and Graduate Program at Sullivan University. Dr. Al-Ghananeem has vast academic and research experience including securing significant research grant funding and leading successful academic-industrial collaboration involving several marketed pharmaceutical products. She has published numerous research articles, submitted patent applications and is experienced in national and international accreditation standards and quality assurance. Dr. Al-Ghananeem received a Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy degree from the University of Jordan and her Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Kentucky, College of Pharmacy.

Mike Rouse, B.Pharm (Hons); MPS, Director, International Services, commented, “We welcome Drs. Carmichael and Al-Ghananeem to the IC. We are certain that their leadership and expertise will support ACPE’s International Services Program in its continued growth and development to support countries in their efforts to improve the knowledge and skills of their pharmacists, enhance and expand local resources, and contribute to improved patient and population healthcare outcomes.”

About the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education

The Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE) is the national agency for the accreditation of professional degree programs in pharmacy and providers of continuing pharmacy education. In collaboration with the American Society of Health-System Pharmacists, ACPE accredits pharmacy technician education and training programs. ACPE also offers evaluation and certification of professional degree programs internationally. The mission of ACPE is to assure and advance excellence in education for the profession of pharmacy. ACPE is an autonomous and independent agency whose Board of Directors is derived through the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy (AACCP), the American Pharmacists Association (APhA), the National Association of Boards of Pharmacy (NABP), and the American Council on Education (ACE).
